Agreed, Dean Feldner.
A meeting next week is preferred.

I'd like to meet with you on Monday morning and then meet with you and Dave on Tuesday anytime between noon and 1:30 on Tuesday.

How does 10AM sound on Monday for you?

Thank you,
Jenni

Two options, we can meet at noon on Tuesday for 30 minutes and Dave can join at 12:30pm.

My Tuesday has no other openings at this point, but Dave is not available on Monday.

Option two, I am wide open on Monday morning. So we could meet on Monday and then meet with Dave on Tuesday between noon and 1:30.

Whichever you prefer. It seems better to me to meet this week rather than extending to the 29th.

Dean Feldner,

Circling back but also clarifying that perhaps it's best to meet first and get acquainted.

We've not yet had the opportunity to meet in person.

Again, Monday or Tuesday works for me--anytime.

Thank you,

Dean Feldner,

Please let me know if next Monday or Tuesday works for you?

I'm free and flexible at any time.

After that, we'd need to look at options for meeting the week of 4/29 due to my existing travel schedule.

Thank you,

Dean Feldner,

Thank you for reaching out.

I'll relieve Dr. Ah Yun from this thread and message you separately with some suggested dates and times.

Best,

Thanks for the connect, Kimo.

Jenni, what does your schedule look like in the next week so that we can find some time to meet with Dave. If you wanted to touch base before that meeting, we can certainly set that up as well.

Looking forward to our conversation.

Best wishes,
Sarah

Kimo,

Thank you for today's helpful chat, today.
It means a lot.

And thank you for putting me in touch with Dean Feldner.
I look forward to next steps.

Hi, Jenni. Appreciated my time with you today and thank you again for the kind gift. I had the opportunity to speak with Acting Dean Sarah Feldner and she agreed to participate in a conversation with you and Dave. I am hopeful that the three of you will find a path that guarantees that the expectations of both you and the O'Brien Fellowship program are fully met.

Have a great weekend.
